Acngun Refining Mask

Acngun products have been clinically tested in Cerrahpasa Medical Faculty of Dermatology over patients with acne vulgaris for 30 days. This study demonstrated that Acnegun products can be used as a complementary treatment to support medical care. Acnegun products contain natural AHA acids (multifruit acids) which have a higher therapeutic index (stimulation/irritation ratio) than synthetic acid forms. 10% of natural AHA application increases 34% of cell renewal. Cell renewal was up to 20,50 days in control cases, whereas this was reported as 13,50 days in natural AHA applied patients. Can be used as a spot treatment and can be applied directly on the spot that exists on the face, back or other part of the body. It can be left on the skin all night long and can be rinsed with warm water in the morning. A visible recovery will be observed in a short period of time.
